Create a Group (Class)

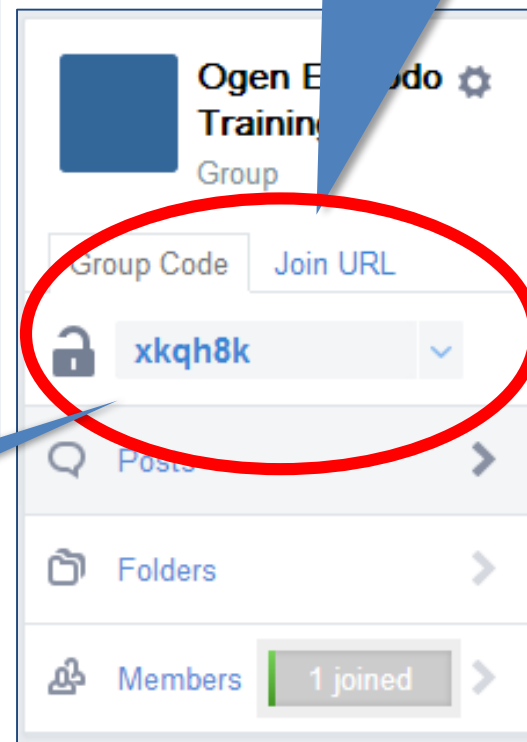

1. Select + on groups menu

2. Complete group info

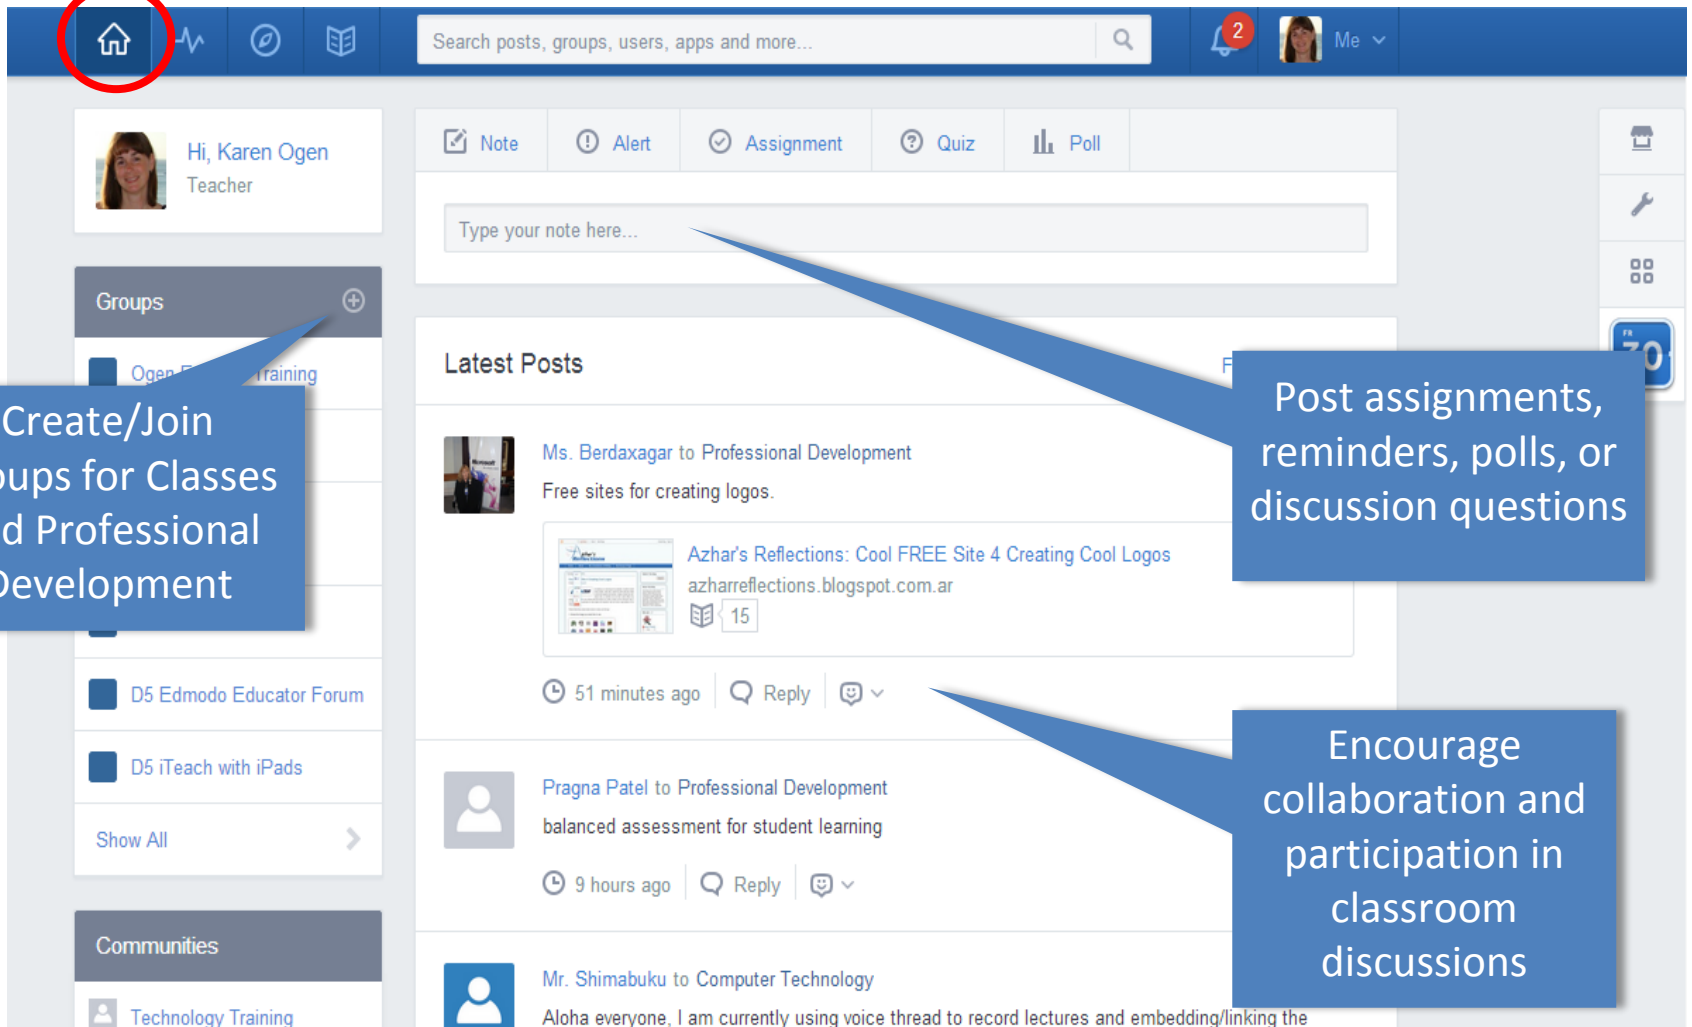

A screenshot of the 'Bring your classroom onto Edmodo!' form. It has a title bar with a close button (X). The form contains three input fields: 'Name your group', 'Select a Grade' (with a dropdown arrow) or 'Range', and 'Subject Area' (with a dropdown arrow). Below these fields, there's a paragraph: 'Edmodo Groups help you connect and collaborate with your students in a closed, safe environment.' At the bottom, it says 'Step 1 of 2' and has a 'Learn more' link and a 'Create' button.

3. Distribute code or Join URL to group members

4. NOTE: Code will automatically lock in 14 days, but it can be reset.

The screenshot shows the Edmodo Home Page interface. At the top is a blue navigation bar with a home icon circled in red, a search bar, and a user profile. Below the navigation bar is a sidebar on the left with a 'Groups' section containing 'D5 Edmodo Educator Forum' and 'D5 iTeach with iPads', and a 'Communities' section with 'Technology Training'. The main content area features a 'Note' section with a text input field, a 'Latest Posts' section with three posts, and a right sidebar with icons for a shop, a wrench, a grid, and a calendar. Three blue callout boxes provide additional context: one points to the 'Groups' section, another points to the 'Note' section, and a third points to the 'Latest Posts' section.

The screenshot shows the Edmodo interface for posting a message. At the top is a navigation bar with icons for home, activity, messages, and library, followed by a search bar and a user profile dropdown. Below this is a header section with a user profile (Hi, Karen Ogen, Teacher) and a row of post types: Note (highlighted with a red circle), Alert, Assignment, Quiz, and a bar chart icon. The main content area contains a text input field labeled 'Type your note here...', a 'Send to...' dropdown menu, and a row of icons for attaching files, links, library items, and scheduling. At the bottom right are 'Cancel' and 'Send' buttons. Five blue callout boxes provide instructions: one points to the text input field, one points to the 'Note' button, one points to the 'Send' button, one points to the 'Send to...' dropdown, and one points to the attachment icons.

Don't start a new post, click the reply button.

Don't forget to send it.

The screenshot shows a group post in Edmodo. The post is from 'Me to Ogen Edmodo Training' and says 'Welcome to the D5 Edmodo Training Page! Reply to this message and tell me about y...'. It was posted '29 seconds ago'. The 'Reply' button is circled in red. Below the post is a text input field labeled 'Type a reply...'. To the right of the input field are 'Cancel' and 'Reply' buttons. A dropdown menu for reactions is open, showing '1 Reaction' and 'Outstanding! Most Popular' with a green badge '1'. Below this is a 'View All Reactions' link. At the bottom of the dropdown is a grid of reaction icons, with 'Outstanding!' selected. A blue callout points to the 'Reply' button, and another points to the 'Reply' button in the dropdown. A third callout points to the 'Type a reply...' input field.

The screenshot shows a student's assignment submission in Edmodo. On the left is a profile picture of a man. To the right, the assignment title is 'Me to P1- Language Arts' and the specific task is 'Tuck Everlasting: Chapter 10 Homework'. Below the title, it says 'Turned in (9)' with a pencil icon and a 'DUE: Jul 19, 2011' badge. The assignment instructions are: 'Create a card and write a letter to Winnie and give advice on how to handle the problem she is facing in the story of whether she should tell about the spring or keep it a secret. Provide at least three facts to defend your advice, and use proper Friendly Letter guidelines.' At the bottom, it shows the date 'Jul 14, 2011', a 'Reply' button, and a tag 'Assignments' with a close icon and a 'Tag' dropdown menu.

The screenshot shows the Edmodo interface. At the top, there's a navigation bar with icons for home, a red-circled progress icon, a search icon, and a book icon. A search bar is next to it. On the right, there's an 'Account' dropdown menu. Below the navigation bar, the main content area is divided into two columns. The left column shows an 'Assignment Overview' for 'Tuck Everlasting: Chapter 10 Homework'. It includes a table of student submissions with columns for student name, score, and a 'Turned in' button. The right column shows a student submission by Jane Addams, including the text of the assignment, a file named 'letter_to_winnie.docx', and a section for comments. A red box highlights the file icon with a pencil, and a red arrow points to it. A blue callout box explains that clicking the file will open it, but the user must have the program to view the file. Another blue callout box explains that clicking the file icon will allow the user to annotate the file, and all annotations will be saved automatically. A third blue callout box explains that teachers can click the 'Turned In' button or the Progress button to review assignments. A fourth blue callout box explains that comments allow users to provide feedback on assignments, and a permanent record is kept for reference.

Mobile Access

- ▶ Get updates and notifications on the go
- ▶ Mobile app available for
 - iOS – iPhone, iPad, iPod Touch
 - Android smartphones and tables

Best Practices for Safe Social Networking

- ▶ Encourage students to create their own account passwords to ensure password safety
- ▶ After all students join your group, lock the group code to prevent others from joining (will automatically lock after approx. 14 days)
- ▶ Monitor group membership to ensure only students in your group have joined
- ▶ Educate students on proper netiquette
- ▶ Use “Read-Only” status to curb inappropriate behavior

Edmodo Code of Conduct
